Seefeld is a picturesque village in western Austria, just 16km south of the German border and 29km north west of Innsbruck.

Seefeld gained worldwide recognition as the two-time host of the Nordic competitions during the Winter Olympic Games in 1964 as well as in 1976 and as the venue for the Nordic World Ski Championships in 1985 and the Nordic Combined World Cup in January 2004.

Innsbruck Airport: 20 km / 20 minutes

Munich Airport: 175 km / 2 hours

Salzburg Airport: 180 km / 2¼ hours

The Olympiaregion Seefeld has an excellent reputation when it comes to football training camps. Its location at an altitude of 1200m offers the perfect climatic conditions in the summer for a successful preparation for the upcoming season.

Seefeld has been a top destination for football training camps since the 1980s. The three excellent training pitches, set with the backdrop of the Alps, are close to several top-class hotels.

During the European Championship in Austria and Switzerland in 2008, Seefeld was the base of the Czech Republic. Saudi Arabia also came to this region to prepare for the football World Cup in 2006 and the Netherlands for the competition in South Africa in 2010.

Some of the teams that have benefited from the excellent training conditions in Seefeld include:
